The Honorable Lois Bloom United States Magistrate Judge for the Eastern District of New York 225 Cadman Plaza East Brooklyn, New York 11201

Re: Rosario, et al. v. Valentine Avenue Discount Store, Co., et al.

Docket No. 10-CV-05255 (ERK)(LB)

Dear Judge Bloom:

As the Court is aware, this office represents all plaintiffs in the above-referenced matter. On February 2, 2016, pursuant to the Court's January 28, 2016 Scheduling Order, we filed via ECF the Joint Motion for Final Approval of Collective and Class Action Settlement, an Award of Attorneys' Fees and Expenses, a Service Award for Plaintiff Julian Rosario, and the Entry of Final Judgment ("Joint Motion"). Dkt. 275. At the January 28, 2016 conference, the Parties advised the Court that there were five individuals who had submitted requests to be excluded from the settlement. Defendants' counsel, George Peters, further advised the Court that he believed that those individuals had misunderstood the purpose of the exclusion mechanism, simply did not wish to claim funds under the Settlement, and planned to imminently rescind their requests to opt-out. But, because we had not received those rescissions by the February 2, 2016 due date, in the Joint Motion, specifically in paragraph nine of the Declaration of Stephen Donaldson, a representative of Garden City Group, we reported that there were five individuals who had requested exclusion. The proposed order that we submitted with the motion also listed the names of these five people.

This afternoon we were advised that these five people indeed sent letters rescinding their requests to be excluded and confirming that they did not wish to collect any funds under the settlement agreement. These five rescissions are annexed hereto. As such, we are now able to report that there are presently no individuals who object to the settlement, wish to be excluded from it, or have requested to speak at the February 11, 2016 Fairness Hearing.

Respectfully Submitted,
